Podere Còncori:IGT Toscana

Certified Biodynamic,
Demeter Member

Gabriele Da Prato's small production biodynamic wines are unique and worth seeking out. Podere Còncori, located in Garfagnana north of Lucca reminds one more of the Appalachian hills than of bucolic Tuscany. Podere Còncori is a member of the small but esteemed Italian branch of the Renaissance des Appellation and a member of Demeter.

There are no short cuts, no compromises for this young producer. Decanter and Italian wine guides L'Espresso, Veronelli, Gambero Rosso and Slow Wine have very favorable reviews for these clean natural wines. For several years they have been included in the esteemed Vini della Costa Toscana (Wines of the Tuscan Coast) along with Ornellaia and other producers.
